

Pamela Duda, CPC, ELI-MP

Pamela Duda is an Executive Coach and DISC Trainer with ImpactHR, LLC. She brings to the role a wealth of corporate experience having worked in organizations such as inVentiv Health, Pharmacia, Colgate-Palmolive, and Johnson & Johnson. With core competencies in the DISC behavioral based profile survey and assessment tool, career transition, talent on-boarding, team dynamics, problem solving and effective communication, Pamela has helped clients accelerate their success and produce more satisfying results in their lives.

In her recent roles Pam provided clients with change management planning and execution to incorporate integrated business offerings and industry trends impacting the business across entire organizations. As well, she was integral in the design and implementation of numerous talent assessment processes to monitor existing talent skills and bridge the gap between current and future organization needs.

Pamela is a Certified Professional Coach (CPC), a member of the International Coaching Federation (ICF), and a graduate of the ICF-accredited training program at the world-renowned Institute of Professional Excellence Coaching (iPEC). She is certified to conduct the Energy Leadership Index (ELI) attitudinal assessment as well as the DiSC communication behavioral profile assessment. Pam holds an M.B.A. in Finance from Fairleigh Dickinson, with a specialization in Pharmaceutical/Chemical Studies and a B.S. in Finance from Rider University.

Pam is affiliated with the Healthcare Business Women's Association (HBA), the NJ Chapter of the International Coach Federation (ICF), the New Jersey Association of Women's Business Owners (NJAWBO) and a member of the BNI-Clinton Chapter in New Jersey.

For additional information, and to inquire about coaching, consulting and training delivery, please contact ImpactHR, LLC at 973-252-5275 or online at www.ImpactHRconsulting.com